Employee Recognition
through Gamification

2022-2023

The challenges of the present and the future

With the recent COVID-19 pandemic that spread in early 2020 HR faces new challenges. The globalization of remote work has seriously impacted employee engagement levels and several trends are accentuating. People are mostly unhappy with their jobs, and have been resigning in record numbers (47.8 million in 2021)

This phenomenon has been internationally dubbed "The Great Resignation".

Pandemic highlighted the problem of lack of engagement.

Lack of recognition is the main reason for 79% of employees quitting.

Evaluations that do more harm than good

In 2019 a study by Gallup found that traditional evaluation methods done once a year are harmful to the company. Only 14% of employees consider that it actually helps them improve, and the vast majority think that by the time of the evaluation the timings have already been lost, both for improvement and for recognition.

The Upreciate platform is born then with the purpose of enabling all organizations to create an agile and spontaneous feedback culture accessible anywhere and anytime.

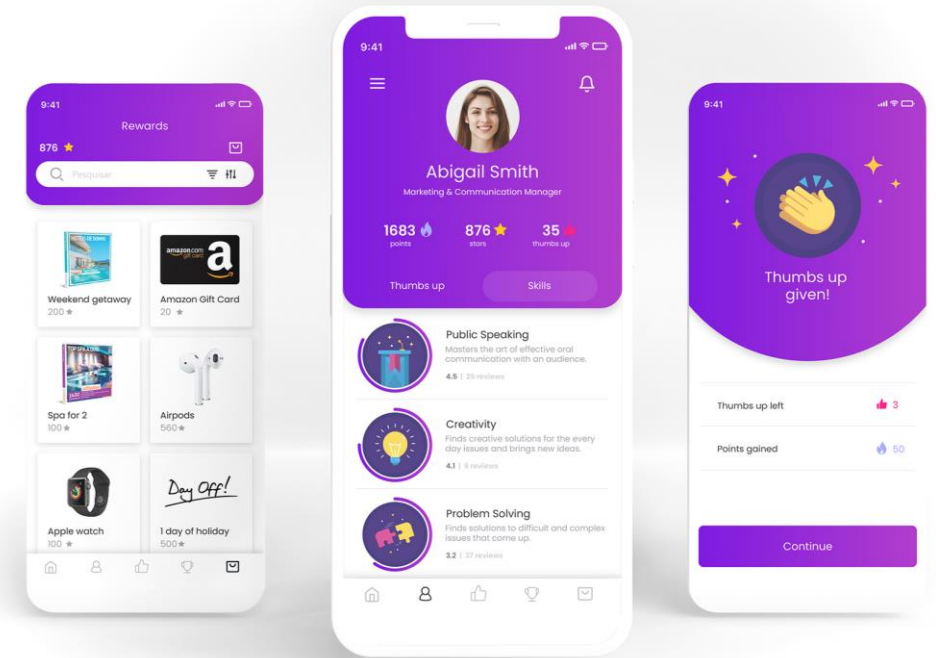

It's time to Upreciate

Increase Engagement through Recognition

Less than 50%* of employees say they find "meaning & purpose" in their job.

Upreciate is a platform that promotes instant and agile peer recognition, with a goal to increase levels of engagement between colleagues and with the organization.

The motivation to join and play is stimulated through the points and stars system, the ranking, the rewards, as well as all the dynamics created in the platform itself, which encourages you to play and recognize colleagues on a regular basis.

Peer to Peer Recognition at your fingertips

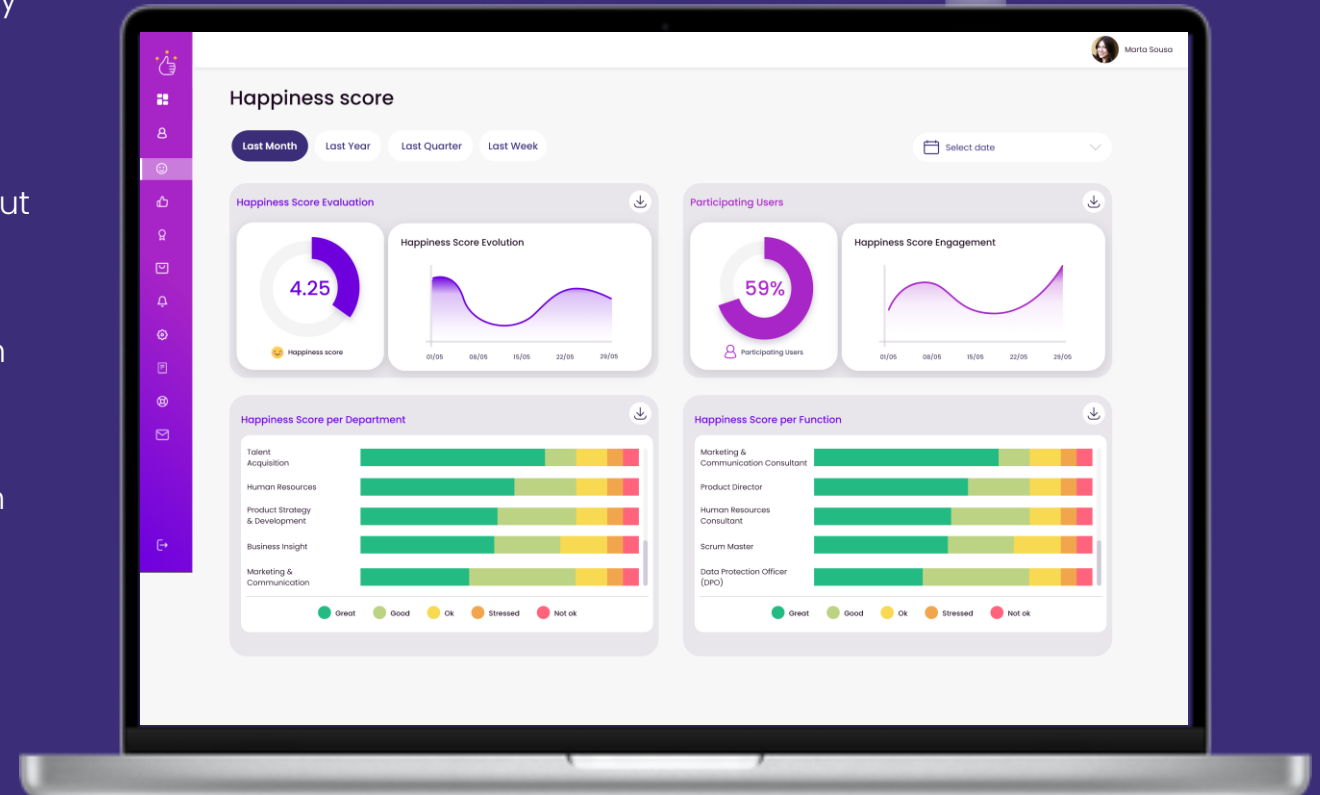

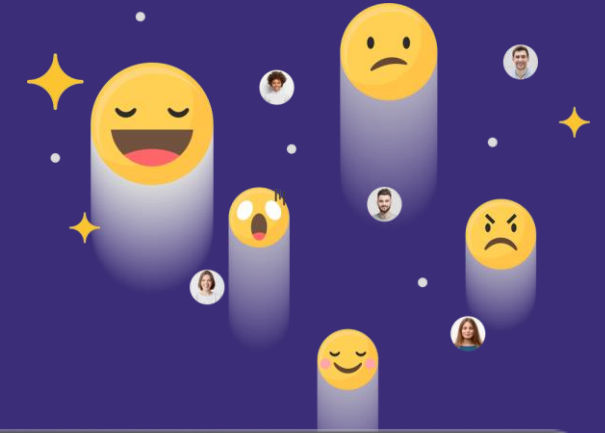

Happiness Score

Track happiness in real time

Through the Mood Board, employees will share daily how they are feeling, their state of mind, by clicking on the matching emoji.

With a Happiness Score that gathers real time feedback about your employees' feelings, in the Backoffice you can:

- ✓ Detect moments of generalized dissatisfaction and act on them immediately;
- ✓ Measure and track the immediate impact of any action on your employees' happiness;
- ✓ Compare the evolution of the Happiness Score in different time periods and between different departments and functions within your company.

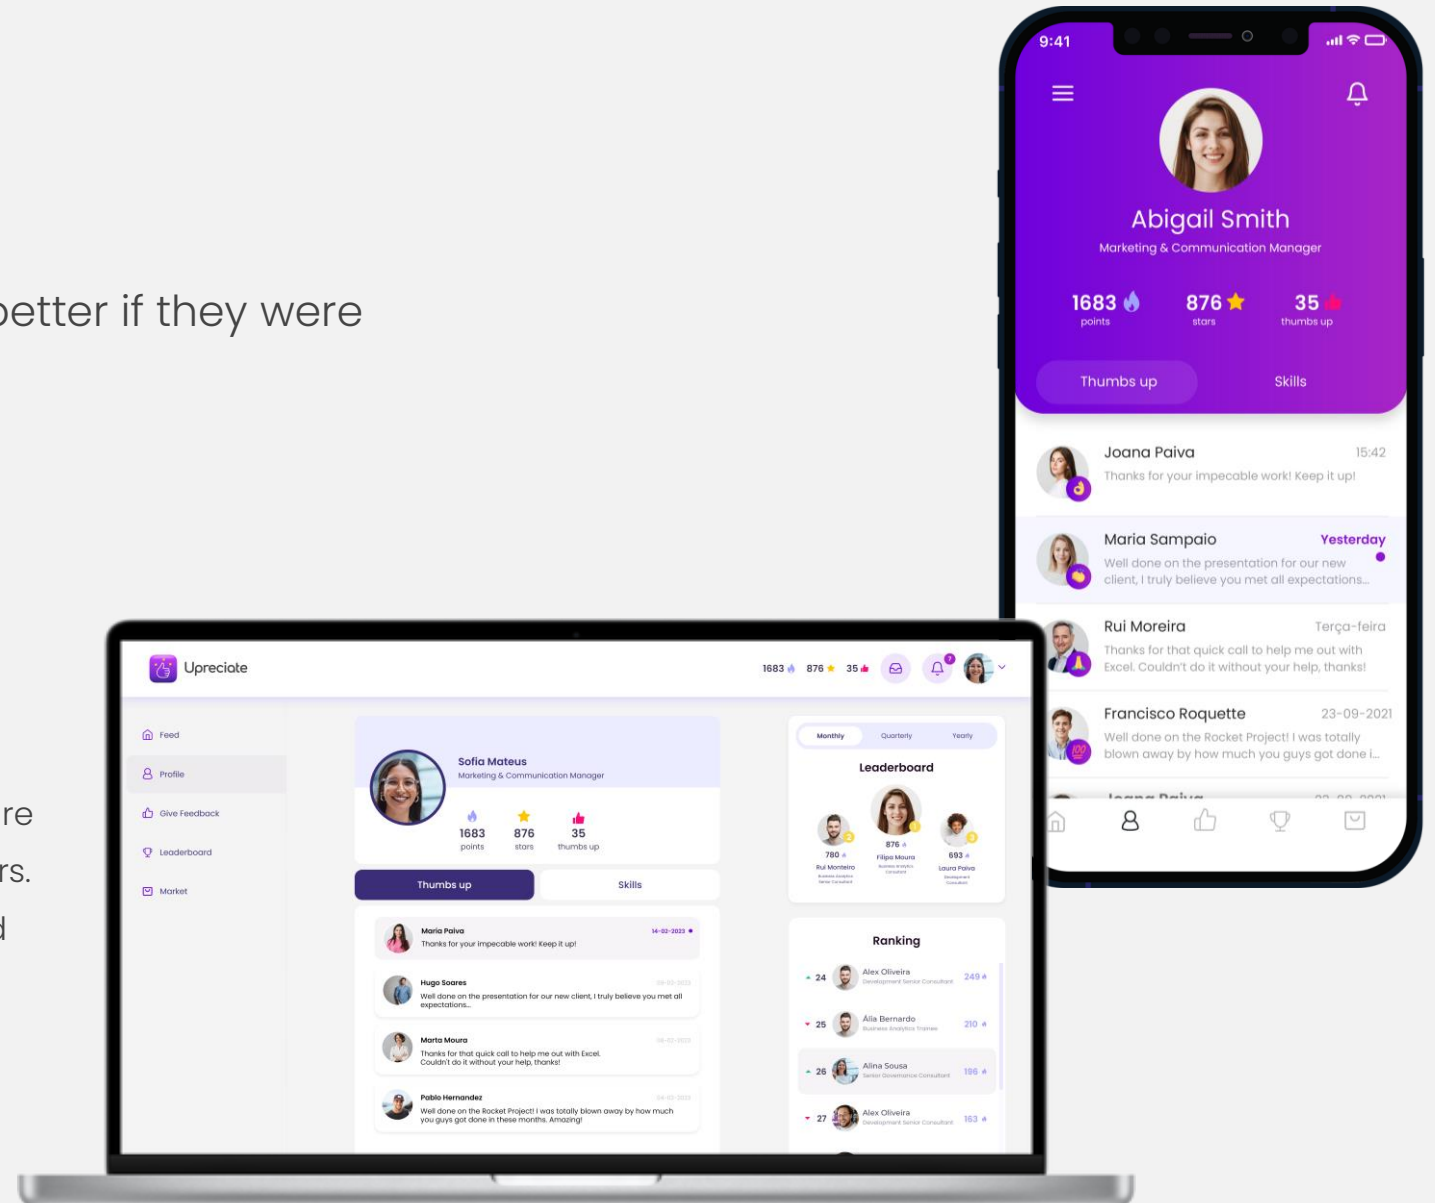

Recognition

69% of employees say they would work better if they were recognized

Upreciate promotes recognition among employees, strengthening the involvement of teams, through a gamification platform.

There are 2 types of scores (Stars and Points), which are acquired by recognizing their colleagues or supervisors. This way, all employees can recognize each other and directly benefit from it.

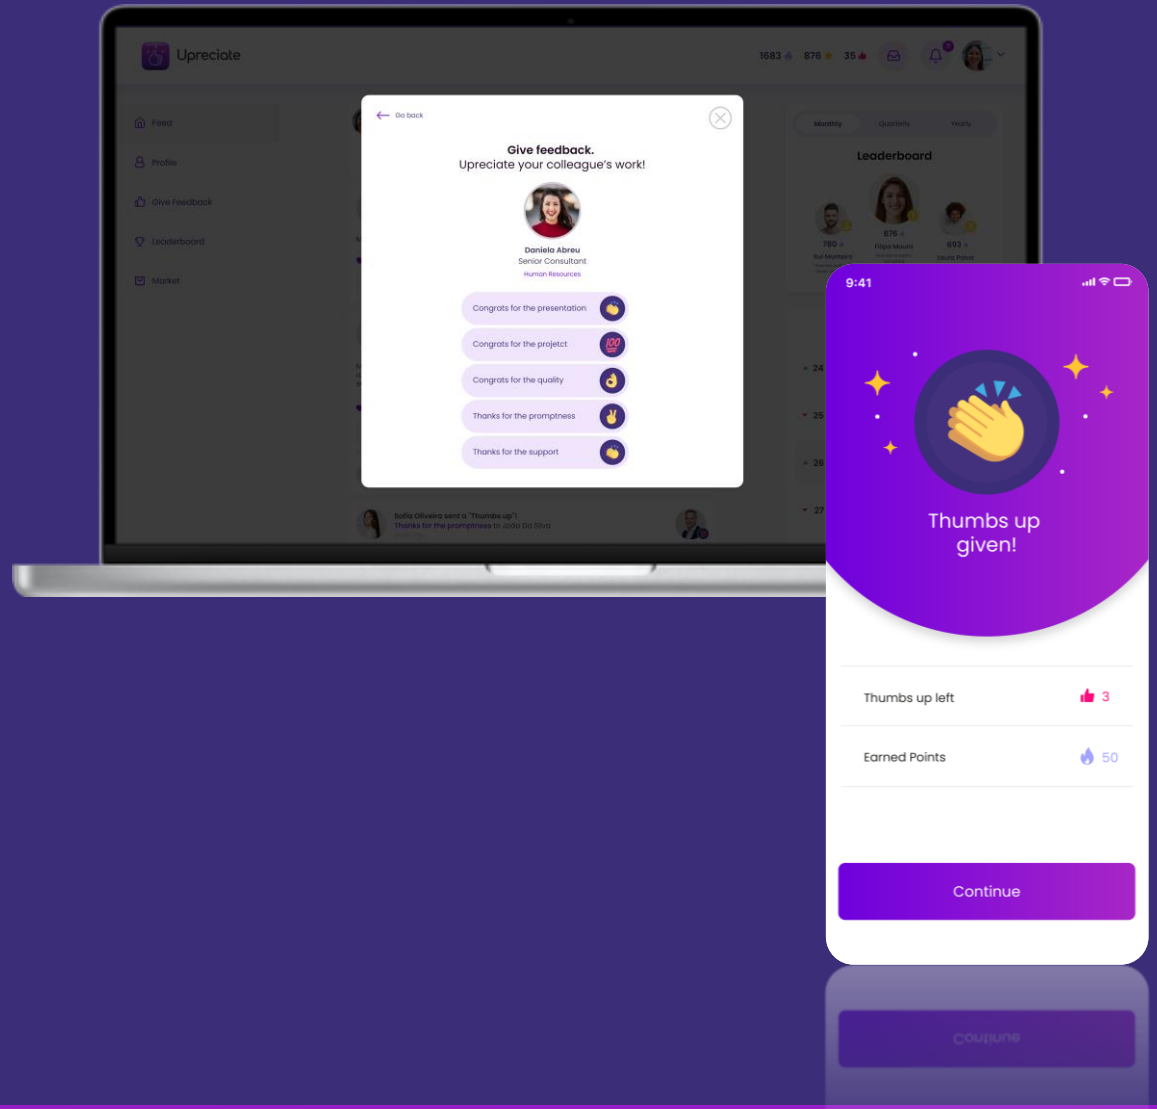

Thumbs up

Recognition at the click of a button

Instant and continuous feedback is extremely important for skills development, as well as for fostering a healthy yet competitive organizational environment.

Employees can quickly recognize the efforts of their colleagues by giving them a Thumbs up for a presentation made, a project accomplished, etc. There are 5 pre-defined types of Thumbs up that make Upreciate easy to use.

It is possible to send Thumbs up to anyone, which will be visible in the platform's Feed. Users can interact, through likes or comments.

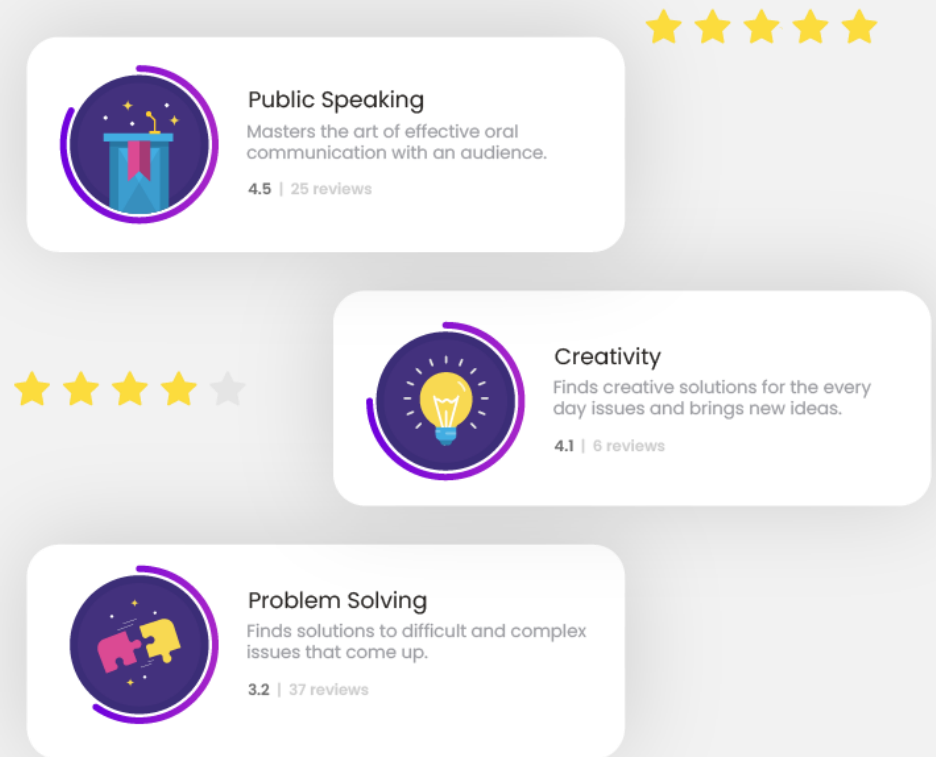

Skills

Skills Recognition and Mapping

Employees can rate the skills of their colleagues.

- ✓ Select the skills & values that you value most in your organization.
- ✓ Customize the indicators that allow you to assess these skills.
- ✓ Export your organization's skill map for further analysis or integration into another system.

In a logic of continuous improvement and to enable honest feedback, the skills assessment is private and only available to the recipient and Backoffice administrators.

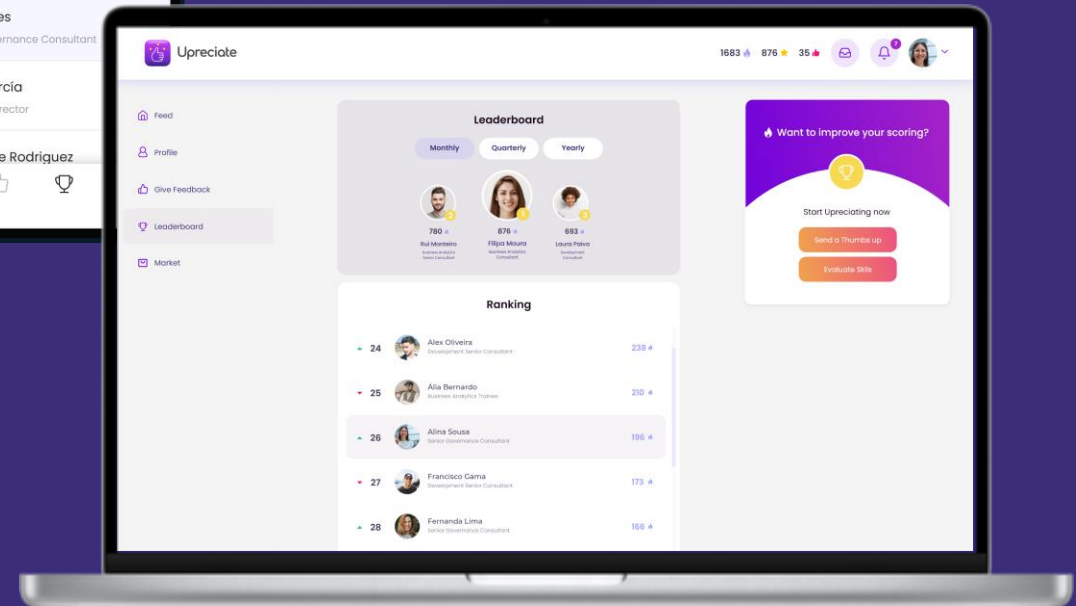

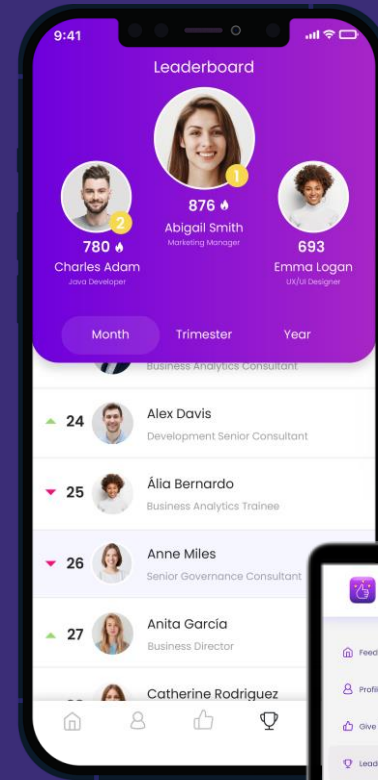

Ranking

The dynamics of competition

All actions in the platform are rewarded with points.

The Leaderboard amplifies the competitive spirit among employees and thus increases the success of the recognition program. The most active users will be at the top with the most points!

Employees can view their Monthly, Quarterly or Yearly ranking on the company's Leaderboard. The Monthly Ranking allows new employees to get into the game and score a position. The annual ranking permeates employees who maintain a constant engagement with the platform.

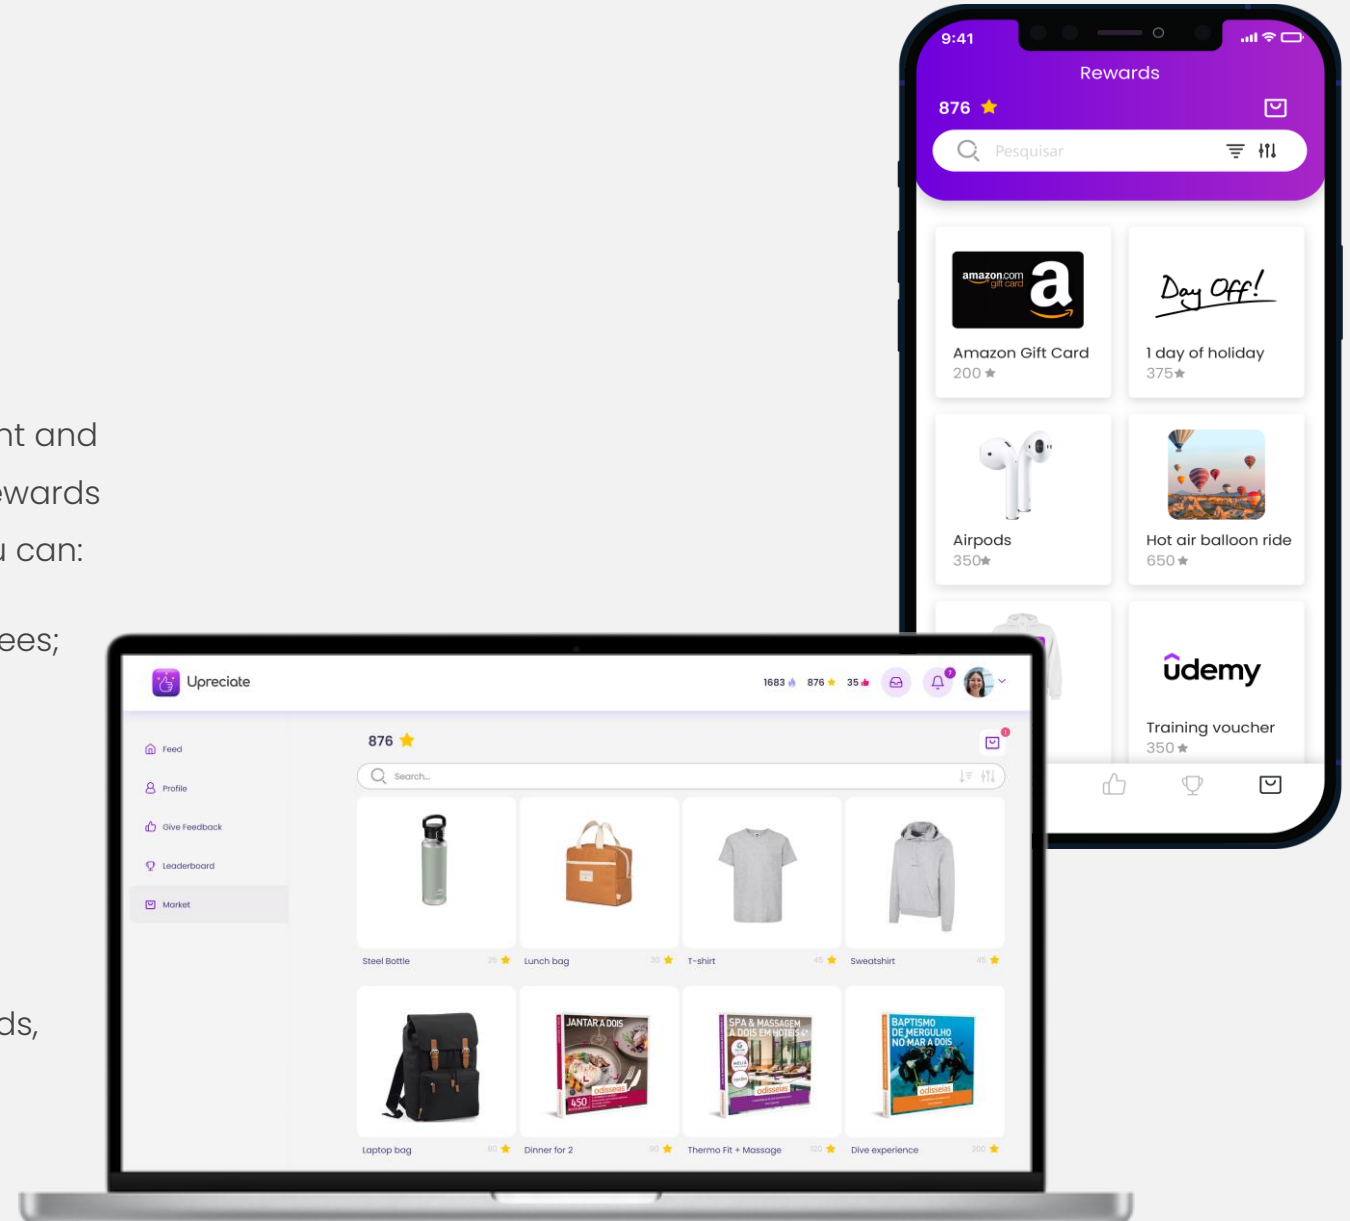

Rewards

Reward good performance

Employees value different things, rewards should be relevant and flexible, in that employees should be able to choose their rewards according to their preferences. Through the Web Portal, you can:

- ✓ Add the rewards that are most attractive to your employees;
- ✓ Change the status of orders (canceled, in preparation, shipped, etc).
- ✓ Validate the interest on certain rewards and adjust the rewards available.

Employees can exchange the accumulated stars for rewards, track the tracking of the same.

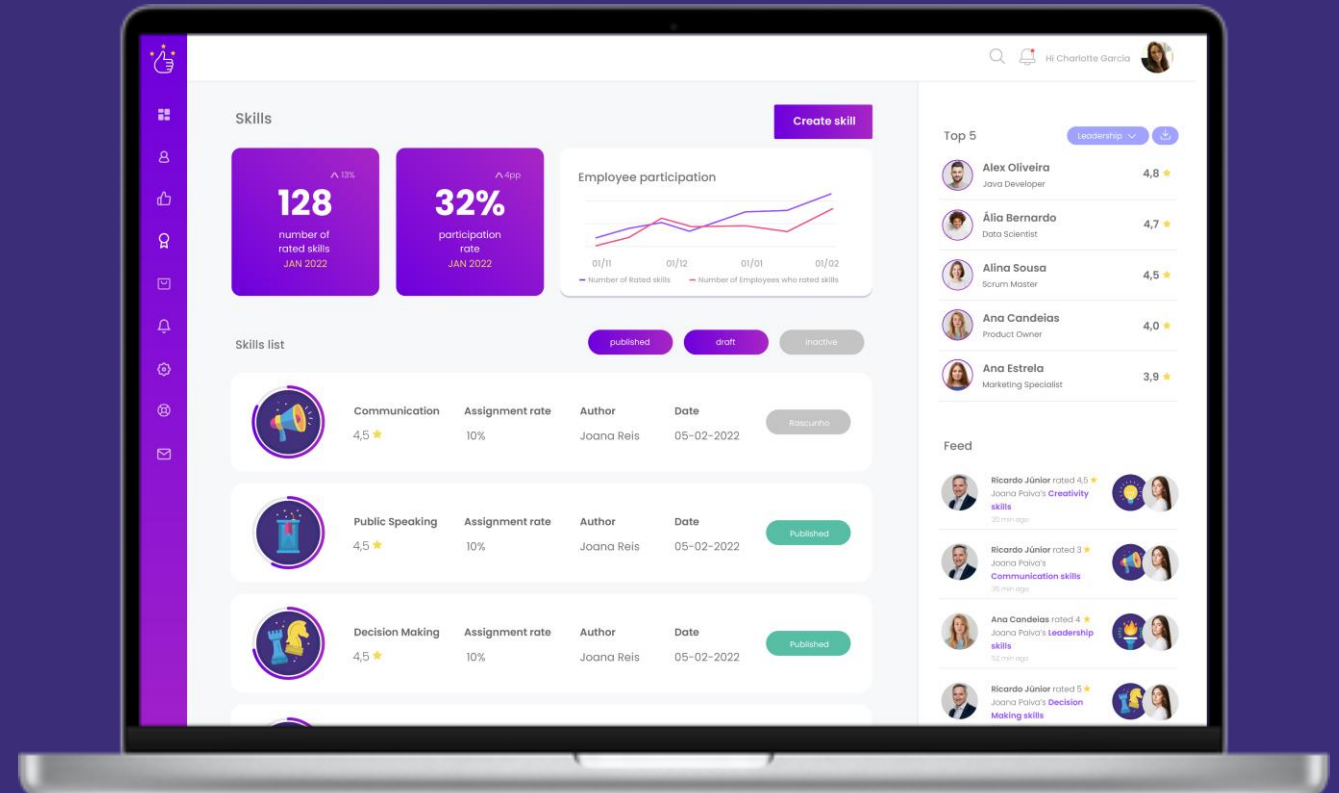

Configuration – Backoffice

We provide a Web portal (Backoffice), where you can parameterize the entire platform at the level of user creation and game dynamics.

You can launch a new reward or a new skill to be recognized.

The Skills, Rewards and Scores assigned for each action, are fully configurable in the Backoffice.

You can also view a set of metrics on the use of the platform, Thumbs up, Skills, among others.

Transform the way you give gratitude in your organization.

Create a Culture of Regular and Spontaneous Feedback.
